THE return of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Slade, of Oxford, Nova Scotia, causes much rejoicing in their family and also among their many friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Slade arrived yesterday, and are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. John J. Roberts. They have returned to Oregon to make their home and will live in Silverton where Mr. Slade will be associated with his son, Claude P. Slade, in the management of the Woolen Mills store in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Slade resided in Salem for a number of months in 1912-13, the former being secretary of the Salem Board of Trade during the winter.

Their daughter Miss Katherine Slade, who has been the guest of the John Roberts for several months, will make her home with her family in Silverton.

The departure of the Slades from Oxford caused much regret and the following gives an account of a farewell banquet tendered Judge Slade on the eve of his departure.

"The evening of May 15th, 1916, will long be remembered by those who assembled about the festive board" in the dining room of the "Dufferin" hotel to take part (probably for the last time) in the banquet given under the auspices of the Oxford Board of Trade in honor of Circuit Judge W. R. Slade who was to depart from us on the morning of May 16th. At 5:45 p. m., some twenty-five guests sat down to a most delicious menu served up in a sumptuous and tempting manner, and in which "Turkey" constituted a substantial part thereof. After all being feasted the "inner man" Mayor Ross who presided, at the board rose to his feet and after denoting in a few remarks the occasion for which all were present, and giving a short address expressing in concise terms his regret in being called upon to part with our honored guest of the evening, Judge Slade, who was sitting on his right and who had recently decided to move to the western shores of the great republic to the south of us there to reside for the remainder of his days.

Following the mayor brief speeches were given by not only members of the various professions which were all ably represented but in fact by all who sat around the "festive board" and in which many pleasing reminiscences of the life and labors of our guest of the evening during his sojourn of the past 25 years in our midst were recalled to mind and publicly expressed. He had witnessed the growth of the town from log houses and cow path streets to the very handsome residences and modern streets of today. Coming to the town as principal of the school, and in which capacity he continued for 23 years, faithfully fulfilling the duties of his avocation, and inculcating by precept and example a spirit which has left a deep impress upon the generations who sat under his teachings. Also in the civic as well as educational affairs of the town he has been closely allied for many years, and whether his ideas of justice were meted out by the "rod" or by the "statutes" they were always done in a fearless manner and with a fairness to his fellow man.

In his reply Judge Slade thanked those present for their many kind expressions that had been made for both he and Mrs. Slade, and he assured them that though circumstances favored his taking up his abode for the afternoon of his life with his family in sunny clime on the shores of the Pacific, yet dear recollections of Oxford and the many friends there would ever remain green in memory and he hoped that at some future day they might be permitted to again clasp the hands of those present as of old.

All rose and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" after which the singing of the national anthem brought to a close this delightful and memorable function.—Oxford (Nova Scotia) Journal.

An informal dinner party was given last night by Miss Elizabeth Lord, who entertained eight of the younger set in honor of Miss Ellen Thielen, who expects to leave in several weeks for Boston, Mass. The table was most artistic with a center of soft-colored flowers and lace ferns.

With regrets good-byes were said today to Mrs. George Bennett, who left for her home in San Francisco. Mrs. Bennett has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Charles Dopp for several weeks and has many friends in Salem who have made her visit delightful with countless little informal attentions.

The matrons of the Au Fuit club motored out to the country residence of Mrs. C. C. Settlemier last Tuesday to enjoy an informal afternoon of sewing. Late in the afternoon a dainty lunch was served. The table was prettily decked with a basket filled with golden-brown popovers from which were yellow ribbons extending to the places and marking covers for Mrs. Eugene Fekettin, Mrs. T. E. Ford, Mrs. J. N. Dowd, Mrs. C. Davidson, Mrs. George Peterson, Mrs. P. F. Zander, Mrs. A. Mielke, Mrs. Frank Davey, Mrs. Harry Talbot and the additional guests Mrs. O. O. McClellan, Mrs. Edward Trites, Mrs. H. P. Allen, Mrs. William Blake, and Mrs. Arthur Abbott of Portland.

Cards have been issued by President and Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney for a reception to be given at their residence

Mrs. A. Klein and her guests, Mrs. and Mrs. Norman Courtney (Emmalita Klein) of Mazatlan, Mexico, have returned from a fortnight's visit with friends and relatives in Portland.

Interest now centers around the comic opera "Robin Hood" which is to be an event of tomorrow night at the high school. The performance promises to be one of the most professional of the season's amateur entertainments.

Mrs. Keith Powell (Alice Bingham) and small son of Lafayette, are the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Bingham.

The Pringle and Pleasant Point social club was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. V. M. Coburn at her residence in Pringle on Thursday afternoon.

The rooms were decorated prettily with a profusion of roses. The forepart of the afternoon was spent with needle work, and chatting. Later a brief business session preceded an amusing contest. Mrs. D. Vanderbilt was awarded the first prize and Miss Margery Piper the consolation.

Mrs. Coburn was assisted in the serving by Mrs. J. M. Coburn and Miss Harriett Coburn.

Those present were: Mesdames L. N. Potter, D. Vanderbilt, E. S. Coates, E. E. Cooper, Quimby, C. C. Best, J. T. Jones, Boise, W. H. Grabenhorst, Geo. Grabenhorst, E. S. Clark, C. C. Harris, Chas. Grabenhorst, J. M. Coburn, W. R. Robins, Misses Elsie Grabenhorst, Nellie Grabenhorst, Grace Robertson, Edna Cannon, Margery Piper, Melba McAllister, Harriett Coburn, Phillis and Virginia Best, Margaret Jones, Fern Harris, Evelyn Coburn, Masters Ellis Harris, Ernest Clark, Willie and George Grabenhorst.

A cablegram was received yesterday announcing the engagement of Miss Blanche O. Lewis of Berkeley, California, to Dr. J. B. Henderson of La Mesa, California. Miss Lewis formerly lived in Salem with her parents. She was a student of Willamette University and has many friends in college circles.

The musical recital given by the Willamette Conservatory of Music, under the direction of Dr. Frank Wilbur Chase and Miss Joy Turner, at the First M. E. church last night attracted a large audience. The program was opened with piano solos by Miss Lucille Emmons, the selections were of a technical nature and Miss Emmons gave a very good rendition of them.

Archie Smith, baritone soloist, sang two numbers and displayed a wide range of voice of which he had good control.

Miss Faye Janette Bolin's piano solo was in the nature of a reverie and was well appreciated.

Miss Edna Demaison played a violin solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Turner.

Miss Louise Benson pleased the audience with two well chosen soprano solos, her charming manner making her a favorite with all.

The second part of the program opened with two piano solos by Miss Esther Cox, the selections were of a spirited nature and in both of them Miss Cox displayed her original personality.

Miss Eugenia McInturff gave two soprano solos, one in French, the other in English. Her voice has a wonderful carrying power, at times filling the auditorium. She also gave excellent interpretation to the thought of the song.

In the two selections on the piano by Amelia McInturff Casselman, a good exhibition of technique was displayed, especially was this true of the first number, Rigoletto. In the next number she played, the sextette from "Lucia di Lammermoor" the entire exercise being rendered with the left hand.

The next number was a selection from the opera, "Ernani" by the popular lyric soprano soloist, Miss Leola McCullum. Miss McCullum had a wonderfully wide range of voice of which she has perfect control. She sang with perfect ease as though the high notes were commonplace.

The closing number of the program was a fitting climax for the evening; a selection from Von Weber's opera "Concetrtruck in F Minor" by Harry Julia Mills on the piano, accompanied by Dr. Chase on the pipe organ. In the interpretation of the opera Dr. Chase read a short sketch of the theme, so that the audience could better understand the music.

THE DAY OF THE DEAD

By Ninette M. Lowater
When the days grow long and the grasses gladden
Impaired with tears the night has shed,
When birds all sing and the trees all listen,
There comes to us the Day of the Dead.
Dearer far than gems or than golden treasure
Is their dust, whose memory Honor keeps,
And the Nation leaves its toil and its pleasure
To garland each bed where a hero sleeps.

We have grown old; they are young forever,
With glory's halo around each head.
Our names will die, but forgotten never
Are those on the roll of the Nation's dead.
Past are the pain and the bitter aching,
Our sacred dead are their country's to breaking,
And the hearts that throbbed well with now,
Calmly above their ashes bow.

Peace to them—peace forever and ever!
Here shall no rude alarm intrude.
The jarring world shall disturb them never.
They know not of war or war's interlude.
Bring to their graves no thought of sorrow,
Why should we mourn o'er our country's dead?
Their fame shall grow bright through many a morrow
And shine like the stars when the day has fled.
Bring laurel and pine for their memory immortal,
And roses, red roses, to emblem the love
Which follows them, even through the dark parts
And passers, for thought of their welcome above.
Bring roses—white—for their purpose holy,
And mid the sweet flowers which are strewn at its side,
Whether his rank was high or was lowly,
Set the Banner of Stars, for which each one died.

During all this talk of preparedness it should not be forgotten that a lot of golfers would make first class trench diggers.

SUDDEN DEATH

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys.

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uric acid poisons the organs and the person dies, and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a sample package of "Anurie"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. When you suffer from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, it's time to write Dr. Pierce, describe your symptoms and get his medical opinion without charge—absolutely free. This "Anurie" of Doctor Pierce's is found to be 37 times more active than lithia, for it dissolves uric acid in the system as hot water does sugar.

Simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Anurie Tablets. There can be no imitation. Every package of "Anurie" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for blood and stomach.

WORRY, DESPONDENCY.

Kidney Disease is suspected by medical men when patients complain of backache or suffer with irregular urination, disturbed, too frequent, scanty or painful passage. The general symptoms are rheumatic pains or neuralgia, headaches, rheumatic spells, irritability, despondency, weakness and general misery. Worry is a frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Thousands have testified to immediate relief from these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's Anurie Tablets.

MOST ELOQUENT MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS

(By Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll)

The past, as it were, rises before me like a dream. Again we are in the great struggle of national life. We hear the sound of preparation—the music of the buiseterous drum—the silver voices of heroic bugles. We see thousands of assemblages, and hear the appeals of orators, we see the pale cheeks of women and the flushed faces of men; and in the assemblages we see the dead, whose dust we have covered with flowers. We lose sight of them no more. We are with them when they enlist in the great army of freedom. We see them part from those they love. Some are walking for God in the last time in woolly places, with the madmen they adore. We hear the whistlings and the sweet vows of eternal love as they fingeringly part forever. Others are bending over cradles kissing babes that are asleep. Some are receiving the blessings of old men. Some are parting with mothers who hold them and press them to their hearts again and again, and say nothing; and some are talking with wives, and endeavoring with brave words spoken in the cold tones to drive away the awful fear. We see them part. We see the wife standing in the door with the babe in her arms—standing in the sunlight sobbing—at the turn of the road a hand waves—the universe holding high in her loving hands the child. He is gone and forever.

The roar and shriek of the bursting shell. The broken fetters fall. There heroes died. We look. Instead of slaves we see men and women and children. The wand of progress touches the auction block, the slave pen and the whipping post, and we see homes and firesides and school houses and books, and where all was want and crime, and cruelty and fear, we see the facts of the free.

The heroes are dead. They died for liberty—they died for us. They are at rest. They sleep in the land they made free, under the flag they rendered stainless, under the solemn pines, the sad hemlocks, the tearful willows, the embracing vines. They sleep beneath the shadows of the clouds, careless allies of sunshine or storm, each in the windowless palace of rest. Earth may run red with another wars—they are at peace. In the midst of battle, in the roar of conflict, they found the serenity of death. I have one sentiment for the soldier living and dead—cheers for the living and tears for the dead.
